Debate in the Senate

The following is a synopsis of a speech delivered in the Senate by Trumbull, of Illinois, in reply to Doolittle, of Wisconsin, on the 22d January.

Mr. TRUMBULL, after alluding to the claim of the Democratic party to be the friend of the constitution and the Union, said it was a little remarkable that it embraced all the men who had fought against the constitution and Union as well as that measures the Senator had denounced as unconstitutional, were originated by the men who fought and legislated to maintain them. He denied as claimed by the Senators that the country was in imminent danger. He did not think the Senator and his associates had the power to peril it. But its only possible danger lay in their misapprehension of the design of the Republican party and in such speeches as that just made resisting the progress of the Southern Conventions. He said reconstruction was going on, and would soon restore the Southern States to the Union and release them from the military despotism which so alarmed the Senator. Why could he not join in their endeavors to rid those States of their rebellious governments, and place them in the hands of loyal men? They had only to stand by those measures to witness their speedy accomplishment. The Senator had complained that Congress would not modify its policy. Certainly not! They had adopted, after mature deliberation, their excellent plan for reconstruction and restoration, if not the best possible, yet the best they could agree to. Fatal defects had been found in it, and the amendatory acts had been caused by an attempt to thwart their execution. He hoped in future they would adhere to the original intent of Congress.

In reply to Mr. Doolittle's assertion that they intended to place the South under negro control, he pointed to the excess of white over the black population in all the States but South Carolina. If the whites had not registered it was the fault of the Senator's and such speeches as his. The Senator states that the few leaders disfranchised embrace all the brains and talent of the South, and he had been frank enough to say that the majority of the Southern whites had been opposed to the rebellion. They were forced into it by those very leaders who were therefore the best men to be entrusted with authority. The charge that it was thought to establish the negro supremacy, was untrue. Even in the Southern conventions a majority of the members were white. To Mr Doolittle's argument that they had recognized the validity of the Southern State governments by submitting to them the constitutional amendment for ratification, he replied that it might as well be claimed that President Lincoln had recognized them by going to Fortress Monroe to negotiate with them. Had these amendments been ratified, doubtless Congress would have recognized them as valid governments. But they did not. Congress, after waiting patiently to see what would be the result of the President's attempted reorganization, and finding they would certainly go to the hands of rebels, took the necessary steps to reconstruct them in accordance with the constitution and safety and peace of the country. He denied the Senator's claim that they were not willing that these States should be admitted.

They were striving to have them organized so that they could be received as States in the Union. The territories and people were there and the people of South Carolina had been as much subject to the laws during the whole of the rebellion, in a legal point of view, as before they destroyed their State organization, and could perform no political act disturbing such organization. Hence they could not elect a Senator, the Constitution requiring Senators to be elected by the Legislature. The rebel Legislature they elected in 1867 was not such as is contemplated by the Constitution as required, but to support a government set up in opposition to the United States. Therefore their representation ceased. The rebellion had gone on till the civilized world, including the judicial tribunals and Congress, pronounced it a cruel war. When that rebellion was overthrown and General Sheridan took possession of South Carolina, there being no one there to preserve the peace, anarchy must have ensued had it not been controlled by military power until the people could be organized in harmony with the Constitution, which President Johnson undertook to do without convening Congress, and failed. Had the people voluntarily abandoned their hostility in 1865, called a convention, recognized the rights of all men and the extinction of slavery under authority of law, they would have been recognized by Congress. Suppose they had set up a monarchy? Was it contended that we must recognize it? If not then Congress was the judge, and until Congress recognized the State government in South Carolina there was none. The constitutional amendments were submitted to the Southern States by the Secretary of State, not Congress, though even had they done it, it would not be in his judgment, an act of recognition. Had they adopted them, however, and done well in other respects, probably Congress would have recognized them. Who could say when the military power should cease? When the rebellion was put down? Could General Sherman? He was a creature of the law, subject to the regulations of Congress. Could the President? Was he anything more than General Sherman, except as Commander in Chief. As President he could only see that the laws were faithfully executed and if Sherman could not set up a civil government in the South they were bound to recognize neither could Andrew Johnson, his power over them being a Commander in Chief and not the President. So far as it differed from his power over Ohio and Illinois no line or word in the Constitution gave any such power as Commander-in-Chief. Then was he subject to the regulation of Congress, the legislative department, which had decided that no legal governments existed in the South. That ended the question. Neither did the question belong to the judiciary. As well might the judiciary attempt to stop the approach of our advancing armies into the rebel States as to decide what governments should be or are established. Could they issue the mandamus to compel the military commanders to leave these States when Congress sent them there to preserve the peace, making use of loyal tribunals, or loyal organizations with power to remove them if they prove obstructions.

After replying to Mr. Doolittle's plea for suffering in the South, by contrasting it with the consequences the war had brought on the North, he said that during the war he had favored making the rebellion odious by meting out to rebels the treatment they gave to loyalists in the South by confiscation and otherwise. Now, however he favored restoring them, with the exception of the leaders to an equality with other citizens, allowing them to vote perhaps, although not to hold office. How then could the Senator talk of their taking away the pardoning power? Even the Constitution prescribed certain qualifications for office which to some extent took away the pardoning power as much as did the constitutional amendment.

In reply to Mr Doolittle's remarks about the measure effecting the majority of the Supreme Court he asked how he knew three favored and five were opposed to the Reconstruction acts. He had heard enough about this charge. If it be true, he continued, that five Judges of the Supreme Court have given their opinions that acts of Congress are unconstitutional I suppose those five judges are infamous and ought to be impeached tomorrow, just as soon as it comes before us. If it be true, I brand as liars those who assert it.

Mr Johnson asked upon what information the Senators repeated that story.

Mr Trumbull said that the Senator from Wisconsin had spoken of it.

Mr Johnson regretted to hear it, and did not believe the story to be true in point of fact.

Mr Trumbull—Nor do I.

Mr Johnson agreed with him in censuring it if it was so.

Mr Trumbull said he had too much respect for them to believe it. The Senator from Wisconsin had not said that two Judges expressed such opinions, but that an attempt was made to subject them to a pressure preventing these Judges from deciding such questions. He presumed the Senator from Maryland had seen the newspapers or heard them in the street, however.

Mr Johnson denied having seen them as he seldom read newspapers and again expressed his distrust of them.

Mr Trumbull went on to speak of the [illegible] with which the Supreme Court had [illegible] concluded that they [illegible] declare an act of Congress unconstitutional independent of political questions. He thought that less than a majority of two thirds of the whole Court could never be permitted to pronounce an act unconstitutional by reason of its repugnance to the Constitution. When a bill was vetoed by the President it required two thirds of the House of Representatives of the people of the Union to make it a law. Should three out of eight Judges be permitted to say it should be no law—a tribunal that at its origin doubted its power to do so in any case? Why place the Court above themselves, which would be the case even if two thirds could set aside what two thirds did. Possibly it would not be going too far to require the unanimous consent of the whole Court. These were questions for careful deliberation, and he was sorry that they were lugged into discussion. They had nothing to do with this question.

Mr Johnson—They don't belong to it.

Mr. Trumbull alluding to the remark of the Chief Justice went on to say that he hoped they would act with reference to the best interests of the country and not any man's interests in the Presidency in the passage of such a measure. He again denied that any attempt was being made to establish negro supremacy. Many more thousands of whites went into the rebel States and voted. They were disfranchised. Although many had been deterred from voting, for one he would never agree to modify the policy requiring the States to be placed in the hands of loyal men, or that they should be turned over to the plunderers of the nation's wealth or the would be murderers of the nation's life.

Matters in Florida

THE LABOR QUESTION—THE CHIVALRY WANT SLAVERY AGAIN—A DEMOCRAT ON THE BEAUTIES OF MISCEGENATION.

(Florida correspondence Chicago Tribune.)

What the negroes will do seems problematical. If the planters raise no cotton they will want but a fraction of them. Some of them I hear vowing that they will hire no men black or white, and declaring that the white men are just about as useless as the negroes. And the negroes, they protest, are utterly useless. "You cannot make em work without the lash," said a young South Carolinian on the cars, to a Northern man, who was arguing that they might in time learn to work enough to support themselves. They point to the failures of Northern and Southern planters during the past two years as conclusive proof of the unprofitableness of free negro labor, never seeming to consider the unexampled failure of the crops as any element in the calculation, though they freely admit that it would have been impossible to raise a crop with slave labor. The truth is they are very anxious to believe that free labor will prove a failure, just as most of us are anxious to see our pet theories proved by the facts.

Notwithstanding this disinclination to hire negroes, it is not always easy to get them. When I was in Fernandina, the proprietor of a saw mill up the St Mary's River came to the town wishing to hire ten men to work about his mill. This is esteemed much more desirable employment than work on a plantation, yet after searching two days he was compelled to go home with only seven men. He paid them $150 a year and their board.

The temper of the people seems to be despondent rather than vindictive. They are by no means reconciled to the existing condition of things. They quote Brick Pomeroy frequently and with great unction. Brick could carry Georgia or Florida for the Presidency, if only the whites were voters. Just now, everybody is reading a pamphlet by a Tennessean, who calls himself "Ariel," in which he attempts to prove from Scripture that the negro is not a man at all, but only a somewhat intelligent though very ugly beast. A Charleston clergyman has answered "Ariel," but though many read his pamphlet, they seem to think that "Ariel" is victorious in the argument. I listened to a bar room conversation one evening, which illustrated somewhat the past doings and the present expectations of the ex slaveholder.

"Well," said a locomotive engineer, a black bearded, almost black faced man, with a look of dogged determination and equally dogged honesty, "well Uncle Sam took away a negro woman and two children from me, and Mr. Sherman burned up my house, and I have vowed not to shave again until I get another."

"Another nigger woman?" said an easy tempered clerk who sat near him. "If you don't shave till then you'll never shave at all."

"I don't know about that," responded the engineer. "I shouldn't wonder if niggers were slaves again."

There was a general expression of disbelief in this devoutly to-be-wished consummation, whereupon the engineer resumed:

"My nigger woman cost me $900 in gold."

"I had a yaller gal that cost me $1,600," said the clerk. "She was as nice a piece as you ever saw. She was owned by one of the best families in Charleston, and they thought everything of her. I got to running after her, and the first they knew she had a young one. It raised the very deuce, for they hadn't expected anything of the kind. Then they took her to a broker to sell, with strict instructions that she shouldn't be sold to a city buyer on any account. But I knew lots of brokers and I agreed with one to buy her and take her to Savannah. Then, when he bought her, I went down to Savannah and bought her and her child for a thousand dollars. The broker paid nine hundred. I was in Savannah a good part of the time but I didn't keep her there but about six months, and when I brought her back to Charleston her old master was mad enough."

YELLOW KIVERED' LITERATURE—A leaf from a publisher's catalogue happened to fall in our way recently, from which we make the following extracts. These are fair specimens of a long list of publications enumerated, and which, we suppose are intended to suit the taste of a certain class of readers.

Prairie Pete, or, The Trappers Avenger. Of all the tales of wild adventure in forest and prairie this is the most excellent. The reader seems to actually hear the yell of the demon red skins, sees their painted faces, and beholds the lurid flames of the frontier log cabin.

Six Shooter Jim, or, the Bandit of the Woods. This book will find readers as long as there exists a taste for the wild, the terrible and the sanguinary. Every one who has crossed the plains without having his hair lifted, will acknowledge the truthfulness of these striking scenes, that read as if they had been written by the lurid blaze of the burning cabins with a pen dipped in blood.

IDAHO ORE—We have received a call during the week from a gentleman recently from Idaho, who showed us some specimens of silver ore from that region. The samples are from the Banner mine, Silver Hill district and Sophia Tracy lodge in Yuba district and are really beautiful specimens. Where the ore has been roasted the globules of silver can be distinctly seen studding the surface. Such ore would do credit to any mine in the country, and but for the distance which separates these mines from some point of supply making the cost of transportation so great, they would be ranked among the best ever discovered. Accompanying the ore were two small bars of silver taken from ore belonging to the famous Atlanta ledge. The Atlanta has a vein sixty feet wide and the ore lays in pockets or chimneys interspersed through the vein. It is the most flourishing mine in Idaho. The bars will be forwarded to Mr French, at South Bend, Indiana, who is one of the owners in the ledge.—Miners' Press.

HOW TO DO UP SHIRT BOSOMS—We often hear ladies express a desire to know how the gloss is produced on new linen bosoms, etc., and in order to gratify them subjoin the following recipe.

Take two ounces of white gum arabic powder, put it in a pitcher and pour on a pint or more of boiling water according to the strength [illegible] let it stand all night and in the [illegible] carefully from the dregs into [illegible] and keep it for use. A tablespoonful of this gum water stirred into a pint of starch will give lawns either white or [illegible] [illegible] when [illegible] nothing else [illegible] them after they have been washed.

A lady recently died in Bristol, England, who had not tasted animal food during her lifetime of eighty four years and has always been in good health.

WHY DIDN'T THEY?—The San Francisco Chronicle has the following "notes" illustrative of a leading phase of California politics:

The Examiner declares that "the anti-war Democrats had entire and overwhelming control of the June State Convention," and that they [illegible] had they been so disposed, have [illegible] an anti war candidate for Governor. It [illegible] that even as it was "a clean straight ticket of 'anti-war Democrats,' excepting only its head, was presented to the people and ratified by [illegible]." This strikes us as being rather curious, and somewhat inconsistent. We suppose it is fair to presume that "anti war Democrats" were opposed to the war, and if we further assume for the sake of argument that they were conscientiously opposed to it, it is not they who will have any right to find fault with the assumption. Anti-war Democrats, as we understand it, believe in the sacred right of secession. They believe that when [illegible] States signified their wish to go out of the Union, they should have been permitted to go out in peace, and that "Lincoln's war" to keep them by force was a "wicked war." They can, [illegible] have no honest sympathy with men who [illegible] secession and justified the resort to force to prevent it. Haight was in favor of the war, and he still justifies it. Casserly is of the [illegible] and was among the first in this State to raise his [illegible] against permitting the seceding States to [illegible] in peace." How is it then, that the "anti-war Democrats," possessing as the Examiner says they do, "entire and overwhelming control" of the party in California, permit men holding such heterodox sentiments to be elected to the very [illegible] positions in the gift of the Democracy? Why do they gratuitously assume the odious work of "packing Republican sand," if they are so [illegible] and dominant? To us, this [illegible] ous. There must be a screw loose [illegible] "Anti war Democrats" could not [illegible] have hankered after Haight, and the Examiner [illegible] made many wry faces (before the [illegible] of the Legislature), at the idea of [illegible] to swallow Casserly. In fact, if that "entire and overwhelming control" were a [illegible] instead of a myth, and could be predicated of the [illegible] throughout the country, we [illegible] that Jeff. Davis would be the nominee of the [illegible] iron-clad, anti war Democracy.

THE PRICE OF SUCCESS.—A [illegible] the rounds, which is a lesson to the [illegible] agine success in life to be the result of [illegible] General Lefebvre, as is well known, [illegible] regiment of the line and ended his [illegible] shal Duke of Dantzic. An old [illegible] ulated him in a [illegible] tone on his high [illegible] "Yes," said Lefebvre, "I am Duke of D[illegible] (he never spelt his Duchy correctly). I am [illegible] shal, whilst you are a clerk; but if you [illegible] change places with me, I will [illegible] at cost. Do you know how many guns [illegible] have been exposed to before I won my [illegible] —20,000. I have heard more cannon [illegible] there are stitches in my uniform. I will just [illegible] you in the courtyard of my hotel and [illegible] you to the chances of 20,000 shot and shell at [illegible] dred paces. If you escape, well, you [illegible] my sabre, plume, scarf and orders [illegible] of them shall be yours." No fear of the [illegible] cepting the offer, as we need not [illegible].

It is computed that the production of gold in this country, during the last [illegible] ed to $452,000,000, that there was [illegible] the country during the same period $125,[illegible]; making a total supply of $577,[illegible]; that of this sum there was exported $3?2,700,000, leaving a net gain in the seven years of $[illegible].

525 MILES
OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD
Running West [illegible]
ACROSS THE CONTINENT, ARE NOW COMPLETED.

THIS BRINGS THE LINE TO THE [illegible] of the Rocky Mountains, and it is [illegible] that the track will be laid thirty miles further, to [illegible] Pass, the highest point on the road, by January. The [illegible] grade from the foot of the [illegible] to the [illegible] is but eighty feet to the mile, while that of many [illegible] roads is over one hundred. Work in the [illegible] on the western slope will continue through the [illegible], and there is now no reason to doubt that the [illegible] line to the Pacific will be open for [illegible] in 1870.

The means provided for the c[illegible] of this Great National Work are ample. The United States grants its Six Per Cent. Bonds at the rate of from $16,[illegible] per mile, for which it takes a [illegible] lien and receives payment to a large if not to the full extent of its claim in services. These bonds are [illegible] as each [illegible] mile section is finished, and after it has been [illegible] by the United States Commissioners and pro[illegible] to be in all respects a first-class road, thoroughly [illegible] with depots, repair shops, stations, and all the [illegible] rolling stock and other [illegible].

The United States also makes a donation of [illegible] of land to the mile, which will be a source of large [illegible] to the Company. Much of this land in the Platte Valley is among the most fertile in the world, and [illegible] large portions are covered with heavy pine forests and abound in coal of the best quality.

The Company is also authorized to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an amount [illegible] to the issue of the Government and no more. Hon. E. D. M[illegible] and Hon. Oakes Ames are Trustees for the B[illegible] and deliver the bonds to the Company only as the work progresses, so that they always repre[illegible] and productive value.

The authorized capital of the Company is One H[illegible] Million Dollars, of which over five millions have been paid in upon the work already done.

EARNINGS OF THE COMPANY.

At present, the profits of the Company are [illegible] only from its local traffic, but this is already [illegible] than sufficient to pay the interest on all the [illegible] the Company can issue, if not another mile were [illegible]. It is not doubted that when the road is [illegible] the [illegible] traffic of the only line connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States will be large beyond precedent, and, as there will be no competition it can always be done at profitable rates.

It will be noticed that the Union Pacific Railroad is, in fact, a Government Work, built under the supervision of Government officers, and to a large extent with Government money, and that its bonds are [illegible] under Government direction. It is believed that no [illegible] security is so carefully guarded, and certainly no other is [illegible] upon a larger or more valuable property. As the Company's are offered for the present at 90 CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, IN U S CURRENCY, they are the cheapest security in the market, being more than 15 per cent lower than U S Stocks. They pay

SIX PER CENT. IN GOLD,

or over NINE PER CENT. upon the investment. Subscriptions will be received in Portland by

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PORTLAND OREGON,

and in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 N[illegible] street and by CONTINENTAL NATIONAL BANK, No. 7 N[illegible]
CLARK DODGE & CO, Bankers, No 51 Wall st.,
JOHN J CISCO & SON, Bankers, No 33 Wall st., and by the Company's advertised Agents throughout the United States. Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the bonds will be sent free of charge by return express.

A NEW PAMPHLET AND MAP showing the Progress of the Work, Resources for Construction, and Value of Bonds may be obtained at the Company's Offices or of its advertised Agents, or will be sent free on application.

Amalgamation—Figures for Democrats

We sometimes have occasion to write the word "Copperhead" as a designatory term for a portion of a political party. Those to whom this term applies very often resent it, and assuming a virtue, pronounce severe censure upon the habit of calling names. Yet while moralizing in this way, they are sure to apply odious names to their political opponents. They show their detestation of the practice by attempting to stigmatize as "Mongrels" all who believe in protecting every race in the enjoyment of their God given right. "Mongrel," and "Mongrelization," are words which are used to represent a beastly idea, and we must add, a beastly practice. But who are the mongrels? Unfortunately the United States census presents some statistics on this subject which do not redound to the credit of the party which is making so much ado about "mongrelization."

In 1860, there were 582,782 mulattoes in the United States. Four-fifths of these were slaves. Large numbers of the remaining fifth had been born in slavery, and were set free because their fathers were white. Of these nearly six hundred thousand mulattoes, the most were of illegitimate parentage. This amalgamation was brought about by white men; it was not, to any considerable extent, voluntary on the part of the blacks. It grew out of the fact of ownership, of the absolute control which these white men had of the colored race. An observant writer has affirmed that no set of men ever had by law and social usage full and undisputed control over the persons of hundreds of thousands of women, but they abused their power to gratify their lusts, and it has mattered little or nothing what the color of the women has chanced to be. The same writer, after mentioning the well known fact—that the greater part of this amalgamation was in the Southern States, where the slave-owners and their sycophants were supreme, continues:

So far as those States are concerned the Republicans can prove an alibi. They were not there. The Democrats and Conservatives presented such potent inducements that all men of Republican proclivities found it expedient to keep north of Mason and Dixon's line. If they ventured beyond, Vigilance Committees equipped with hempen ropes and tar and feathers were certain to be much too earnest in their attentions to render a stay agreeable or safe. It must be admitted, therefore, that the Republicans if not absolutely, are comparatively exempt from participation in this matter.

But we cannot help directing attention to another point. While there were 416,657 mulattoes in the Southern States, there were, according to the returns of the elections, 431,826 men who voted Democratic tickets. Now we do not insist that either of these aggregates fully explain the other; but, considering all the circumstances, do what we will, the two will come into juxtaposition. Nor is this aspect modified, but rather placed in stronger relief, when the facts as to individual States are concerned. For instance, in Virginia there were 79,776 mulattoes and 72,411 Democrats, and in Mississippi 26,365 mulattoes and 23,876 Democrats. Proportions so uniform would seem to have a definite relationship, and that not altogether recondite, to each other.

FROZEN TO DEATH.—A man named B. F. Koontz, on his way from Auburn to Clark's creek, Baker county, on the 25th of January, was taken sick, and was three days and two nights in the snow. On the third night he got to within half a mile of home and managed to make himself heard, when some persons went to his relief. On the 8th of February he died from the effects of his exposure. He was a native of Ohio, and 42 years of age. He came to California in 1852, and to Oregon in 1863.

About the 20th of January two men started from Clark's creek to Mormon Basin, and became exhausted on the way. One of them was frozen to death; the other was rescued, but was obliged to have both his feet and some of his fingers amputated. The letter which gives this information does not give the names of these two men.

The Record says that Gov. Gibbs' railroad lecture at Salem was a very practical and interesting discourse, commencing with the first projected road and locomotive, giving the progress of invention and improvement in all branches pertaining thereto until the present time, and ending with a sketch of the improvement we might expect in Oregon when the benefits of railroads shall become extended to our State.

BUSINESS OF CHICAGO.—There were 59,722,292 bushels of grain received at Chicago during the past year, and 1,314,000 barrels of flour. Of the grain received, 13,000,000 were wheat and 2[illegible],000,000 corn. The number of hogs received was 1,995,069; cattle, 328,958; pounds of hides, 2[illegible],983,000; pounds of wool, 10,000,000; and of lumber, 862,000,000 feet.

Denver City is taking steps to obtain railroad connection with the Union Pacific at Cheyenne. The city has quarreled with the "Eastern Division" road, and now looks to its rival. Contracts are already let for portions of the work on the road to Cheyenne. The distance to this place from Denver is 110.

The following appointments have been made by Hon. S. E. May, Acting Governor: Notaries Public—F. A. Chenoweth, Benton county; Wm. E. Smith, Washington county; A. B. McIlwain, Josephine county; Charles W. Kahler, Jackson county. Commissioner of Deeds—Joseph [illegible] Nones, New York city.

The Democrats of Polk county will soon issue a campaign paper, under the name of the Polk County Signal. It will be the same size as the Lafayette Courier, but we cannot expect it will equal the Courier in ability.

The oil mill at Salem is manufacturing 125 gallons oil per day.

The Hamburg News, one of the largest, best paying and most widely circulated papers in Germany, is to be discontinued on account of a law suit between its proprietors.

In a recent suit in Maine, an item in the offset account was "for loafing in defendant's shop at the rate of fifty dollars per annum." It is fair to charge for storage.

The Indians

Eastern journals publish the report of the Commissioners who were authorized to treat with the Indians on the Plains and to remove if possible the cause of hostilities which have been continued so long and at so great expense with no practical results. The Commission was composed of Generals Sherman, Harney, Terry and Augur, and Messrs. N. G. Taylor, J. B. Henderson, John B. Sanderson and S. F. Tappan. The report is of great length, but its central idea is easily arrived at. That idea is that any attempt to conquer a peace is utterly futile, and that peaceful agencies should be resorted to and depended on. This conclusion is backed by a review of the attempted military operations against the Indians during the last four or five years, a recital of the immense cost which has attended them, and the utter failure to accomplish anything of consequence toward subjugating the hostile tribes. An account is given of the violation of treaties by the whites and the responsibility of hostilities is thrown entirely upon white men. There may be some truth in this charge, but the wave of emigration carrying with it an active and enterprising people eager in the search for mineral wealth, or desirous of establishing homes and destined to convert a hitherto unprofitable wilderness into the abodes of civilization, is not to be stopped in order that a few widely scattered savage tribes may remain in the enjoyment of their ancient hunting grounds. Such "conservatism" will do for the savage, but it never has and never can obtain countenance among the race which has spread the blessings of civilization from ocean to ocean.

The Commissioners propose the following plan of dealing with the Indians, which in the light of past experience, would seem to be about as utopian as anything that could be imagined:

But one thing remains to be done with honor to the nation, and that is to select a district or districts of country, as indicated by Congress, on which all the tribes east of the Rocky Mountains may be gathered. For each district let a territorial government be established with powers adapted to the end designed. The Governor should be a man of unquestioned integrity and purity of character. He should be paid such salary as to place him above temptation. Such police of military force should be authorized as would enable him to command respect and keep the peace. Agriculture and manufactures should be introduced among them as rapidly as possible. Schools should be established, which the children should be required to attend. Their barbarous dialects should be blotted out, and the English language substituted. Congress may from time to time establish courts and other institutions of government suited to the condition of the people. At first it may be a strong military government. Let it be so, if thought proper, and let offenders be tried by military law until civil courts would answer a better purpose. Let farmers and mechanics, millers and engineers, be employed and sent among them for purposes of instruction. Then let us invite our benevolent societies and missionary associations to this field of philanthropy nearer home. The objects of greatest solicitude should be to break down the prejudices of tribe among the Indians—to blot out the boundary lines which divide them into distinct nations and fuse them into one homogeneous mass. Uniformity of language will do this. Nothing else will. As the work advances, each head of a family should be encouraged to select and improve a homestead. Let the women be taught to weave, to sew and to knit. Let polygamy be punished. Encourage the building of dwellings, and the gathering there of those comforts which endear the home.

The Georgia Case

[From the Sacramento Union.]

Last April the Provisional Governors of Georgia and Mississippi petitioned the Supreme Court to grant an injunction restraining Stanton, Grant, Pope and Ord from executing the Reconstruction Acts. Previous to this the same parties had asked for an injunction against the President for the same purpose. The Court decided promptly that such an application was "scandalous" in the legal sense—that is, it was unfit to be entertained. It fell on the threshold, therefore, permission even to put it on file being refused. The reason for this decision was that the Court had no right to interfere with the executive or political acts of the President, that executing a law of Congress was such an act, and not a merely ministerial one. The Court said that "an attempt on the part of the judicial department of the Government to enjoin the performance of such duties by the President might be justly characterized in the language of Chief Justice Marshall, as 'an absurd and excessive extravagance.' The duty thus imposed on the President is in no just sense ministerial—it is purely executive and political." The folly of such interference by the Court was shown in the fact that its mandate could not be enforced if the President refused to obey; while, if he did obey, the Court could not protect him against impeachment by Congress for failure to execute the law. Hence the Court laid down the broad principle that "neither the legislative nor the executive department can be restrained in its action by the judicial department." Not content with this decision, the petitioners amended their "bill" so as to ask an injunction against the subordinate officers as above described. They thus brought into question the political action of Congress, instead of that of the President, and they have obliged the Court to make a similar decision in its behalf. The opinion read by Judge Nelson refuses to take jurisdiction of the case because it involves a political question, which is subject only to the discretion of Congress. The petition of Georgia was signed and presented in behalf of that State by Charles J. Jenkins, representing himself to be "the Governor of that State, duly elected in accordance with the Constitution and laws thereof, and in actual exercise of the functions of that office." But the Congressional laws inform the Court that Chas. J. Jenkins has no authority to represent the State as he claims; that Georgia has no legal State Government, and these laws forbid either the executive or judicial department to recognize any such Government in any of the unorganized States. The Court has treated this matter as it did the plea against the President. It has refused to interfere with a political function of Congress. It decides, as it has heretofore, that it is for Congress alone to decide upon the political status of the rebellious district. It holds that it is futile, as well as absurd, for the judicial department to restrain or dictate to the legislative department in the performance of its own proper functions. This decision of the Court is made unanimously. It takes within its purview every question which can come up and threaten to overturn Congressional reconstruction. If in the case of Georgia in 1866 the Court found a condition of things which enabled Congress to be the only umpire as to whether that State was or was not repossessed of its State organization, that decides the whole problem. The whole rebel district will remain in precisely that condition until Congress has completed and announced a change. Jenkins was one of Johnson's Governors. The Court refuses to listen to him as the legitimate Governor of Georgia. The sweep of this decision is such as ought to satisfy both friends and foes of the reconstruction Acts. It does not content itself with Stanbery's technical pleading. The Attorney General found enough objection to the injunctions asked for by Georgia and Mississippi in the fact that, since there was no property involved, a case of equity was not made out. He also objected that the Court had no jurisdiction over the parties, because they were sued in their official capacity and not as persons. But the Court takes broader ground, and builds upon it the true argument, namely, that Congress—and Congress alone—is possessed of the power and discretion to deal with the problem of reconstruction. This disposes not only of the Johnson Government, but also the rebel organizations which preceded. The latter were not brought in question in the case like the former, but the principal announced affects both alike. Congress may decide upon the legality of the one as well as the other. If, under the circumstances, rebels and their confreres deem it desirable to postpone reconstruction, loyal men can afford to wait as long as they. The responsibility for delay will rest upon the opponents of Congress.

A Washington gas company has taken the palm for liberality by giving to the poor one hundred thousand bushels of coke, under the direction of the City Council.

A New Orleans thief was informed that if he would return a watch he should be told of one where he could steal one worth two of it and no questions asked.

A young woman in Pennsylvania was so impressed with the fact that she was born to be hung because she had never been drowned, that she hung herself.

SOOTHING AND BRACING.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Although the fame of this renowned invigorant rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Intestinal disorders it is equally efficacious in nervous complaints. Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and lightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any unpleasant reaction. Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

NEW YORK BOOT AND SHOE STORE!

To the Public.

OWING TO THE VARIOUS STATEMENTS circulated by some of the Trade, that the Goods now on exhibition in my Show Case are imported, I respectfully announce to the public that all and every pair were MANUFACTURED ON MY PREMISES, and by public patronage I am prepared to produce every style of BOOTS and SHOES, thus proving by the various styles the excellence of my house in the dispatch of orders. One inducement is the lack of Double Profits, a benefit the public should avail themselves of. The want of a First Class Manufactory has long been felt in this city, and to attain this I have combined such talent as will enable me to offer the public superior goods to those heretofore forwarded by the various agencies of our Portland houses.

THE PORTLAND LIBRARY.—Messrs. J. W. Sutton and J. McCormick, of the committee to whom, at a late meeting of the Portland Library Association, was referred the matter of amending the constitution in accordance with a vote then taken, submitted the following report to the meeting of yesterday:

To the Officers and Members of the Portland Library Association: Gentlemen—Your Committee, to whom was referred the duty of amending the constitution of the Library Association of Portland, beg leave to report as follows:

They would recommend that sections 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 be expunged and the annexed sections be adopted in place thereof:

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 2. All elections shall be by ballot, except when otherwise ordered, and be made by such of the members as shall attend for that purpose in person. Each life and subscribing member shall be entitled to one vote, and the person or persons having the highest number of votes shall be declared elected.

SEC. 3. The election of the Board of Directors shall take place annually on the first Saturday in March and shall be held under the superintendence of three judges selected from the members by the Board of Directors for the time being, and at least ten days notice shall be given of such election in at least two of the city papers. The polls shall be open from nine A. M. to five P. M. and from six P. M. to eight P. M. The ballot box shall be sealed from five to six o'clock, P. M. It shall be the duty of the Judges of Election to sort, count, and record the votes given in, and to report the same to the Board of Directors for the time being, within two days after said election has taken place, specifying in their report the whole number of ballots given in, the name of each person voted for, and the number of votes for each; and it shall be the duty of the Recording Secretary for the time being, to enter such returns, or an abstract of them in the Journal of the proceedings of the Board. The officers of this Association shall be a President, Vice President, Corresponding Secretary, Recording Secretary, Treasurer and six Directors who together, shall constitute the Board of Directors, to be elected annually. No member to hold the office of President or Vice President for more than two successive years.

Your Committee would also recommend the adoption of the following resolution in order that the Association may be placed in working order at the earliest practicable moment:

Resolved, That the vote upon the amendments herewith offered, be taken in the manner recommended therein, on Wednesday, the 26th inst. Members voting "yes" or "no," according as they vote "for" or "against" the [illegible] amendments.

The resolution was adopted and accordingly, the vote on the proposed amendment will take place on Wednesday. Messrs. J. W. Sutton, L. W. Gilliland and W. H. Beckett were appointed to receive the votes and to judge of the election.

FORMS AND USE OF BLANKS.—This is the title of a work very recently published by H. H. Bancroft & Co., San Francisco, 116 pages in two volumes, law binding. It [illegible] all the forms contemplated by the statutes of California with full explanations for filling blanks and adapting them to the various circumstances of business. In most cases they are as applicable in this State as in California, and the work, therefore, cannot fail to be a most useful hand-book for constant reference. The publishers say that "every word has been examined and re-examined, and compared with the statutes by first-class lawyers, until the book is as perfect as it is possible to make it."

The great advantage this book presents to merchants, [illegible] men and others is, they can, by this means transact, more correctly than by any other, nine tenths of all their legal business; they can draw their own Deeds, Mortgages, Leases, Bonds, Powers of Attorney, Agreements, Wills, &c., as well, and more correctly, and better to suit them, than in any other way. They can keep [illegible] control of their affairs, do their business in a straight and regular manner, thus avoiding misunderstandings and lawsuits. Let a business man keep constantly at hand a copy of this book, and look it over attentively [illegible] occasion requires, and he will find that it will not only both help him out, and keep him out of difficulties, but it will give him such information and knowledge [illegible] a thousand matters with which he has constantly to do, that he will be many times, and in many ways, repaid for taking the trouble.

[illegible] COURT—UPTON JUDGE.—The following proceedings were had in the Circuit Court on Saturday.

J. J. Hoffman vs. the City of Portland; suit to recover [illegible] fees as Recorder, from the city; demurrer [illegible] sustained and leave given plaintiff till the [illegible].

State of Oregon vs. Wong Choi, Deng Chul and Di [illegible]; indictment for keeping a bawdy house; defendants each pleaded "not guilty." Bybee and Parrish for [illegible].

[illegible] of Oregon vs Fred Welser; on suggestion of defendant's attorney, E. W. Hodgkinson, the Prosecuting Attorney moved to dismiss the appeal, appeal dismissed and defendant discharged.

The following are the proceedings of yesterday, the [illegible]:

State vs. Ah Shing, jointly indicted with Ah Choy, et al., for larceny; jury empanneled and most of the day occupied in hearing testimony.

John Edwards vs. James Field; order to take testimony of Milton, before M. W. Fechheimer, Notary Public.

[illegible] E. Moore vs Peter S. Moore; default of defendant [illegible] and cause referred to Chas. E. Warren [illegible] proof.

[illegible] of Oregon vs. two Chinawomen; indicted for [illegible] a bawdy house; jury empanneled; submitted to [illegible]. Bybee and Parrish for defendants.

[illegible] STYLE OF PICTURES.—Mr. George Townsend, [illegible] our old watchmen, returned a few days since from [illegible] of several months, the greater part of which time he spent at the Sandwich Islands. He brought with him, among other curious things, several pictures [illegible] at the islands, of native or imaginary scenery. The style may not be new to all, but we doubt if many of our [illegible] ever saw anything of the kind. They are made by laying in glue, on a back ground, moss, strips of bark, posts board or papier mache, pebbles, sand, etc., the background being painted to represent sky, water, [illegible]. After this latter, there is not a particle of paint, the material laid on, having its own natural color. [illegible] pictures have a depth of not more than one inch from the glass and the material has, therefore, but little [illegible] relief; yet if the viewer stand at a little distance, and look a little askance at them, they come out in beautiful relief with as perfect perspective as ever was produced by pencil or brush. The work, when examined [illegible], is rude and meaningless, but yet it must have been done by a genuine artist. There is nothing [illegible] in the scenery—the surprise is in the magic effect produced by changing the position of view, whereby the apparent mass of moss, pasteboard and sticks is [illegible] into a broad and perfectly proportioned landscape. The pictures for the present, may be seen at [illegible] Photograph Gallery.

THE COLUMBIA RIVER.—The Wilson G. Hunt will start this morning for the Columbia river, and if practicable, will go to the Cascades. The ice is represented as rapidly giving way everywhere, and it is thought possible the [illegible] may be able to break a passage through it. Several miles of it, above the mouth of the Willamette, broke loose and floated down, yesterday. Capt. Turnbull received, yesterday afternoon, a dispatch from Vancouver, stating that the river was entirely clear to Proux, a point only a couple of miles below Vancouver. It is probable that it will be clear this morning for a much greater distance.

FLOUR.—The price at which flour may be sold in this city, is quite unsettled at present, and only very small [illegible] have recently taken place, the movements being mostly confined to filling orders contracted for previous to the freezing of the rivers. Manufacturers are [illegible] the greater proportion of all received. It is [illegible], however, that a contract was effected on Saturday for 3,000 bbls. upper country flour, to be delivered here for [illegible] per bbl. This may be considered an outside figure for interior mills flour.

CANDIDATES.—Messrs. Jos. Buchtel and H. L. Hoyt are [illegible] by their respective friends, as candidates for Sheriff of this county subject to the choice of the Union Convention. There may be other candidates in the field, but we do not know that they have been publicly announced. Mr. O. P. Mason is a candidate for Prosecuting Attorney for this Judicial District. We have heard also that Mr. Hare of Washington county, will be presented by his friends for nomination to that office.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT ADJOURNED.—Judge Deady having gone to San Francisco to hold a term of the U. S. Circuit Court in the absence of Judge Field, the term of the District Court for Oregon, set for the 1st Monday of March, has been adjourned to the 1st Monday of May next. Litigants, jurors, witnesses, etc., will find the [illegible] legal notice of the adjournment, in our advertising columns.

EXPRESS FOR THE DALLES.—We are informed that Mr. Chas. [illegible], Wells, Fargo & Co's messenger, will leave this morning per steamer Hunt. If the steamer succeed in getting to the Cascades, he will undoubtedly get through without land travel, otherwise he will go with the steamer as far as she can go, and thence by land to the [illegible], or Dalles as the case may be.

PRODUCE.—The following is a list of produce received yesterday: Per Senator from Oregon City, 2 bales wool, [illegible] goods, 134 boxes apples, 4,500 qr sks flour, 34 gunnies bacon, 8 boxes eggs, 4 hlf bbls dried apples, 61 sks barley, 4 hlf bbls pork. Per Alert: 3,302 qr sks flour, 150 sks flax seed, 483 bags wheat, 42 cases tallow, 1 cage deer, 3 boxes eggs, 40 boxes apples.

TO SAIL.—The bark Occident, Capt. Simpson, will have her cargo on board and ready to sail some time to-morrow. She will have a staving load, consisting largely of flour and wheat. The four thousand barrels brought down yesterday by the Senator, from the Standard Mills, went directly into the Occident, without touching the wharf.

FROM WARREN'S DIGGINGS.—A private letter from Warren's Diggings states that the rock from the Hic Jacet mine, recently crushed, yielded $300 per ton. The camp is in a state of jubilation over the result, and other companies are pushing forward their work with greater confidence.

APPLES SHIPPED PER AJAX.—In the hurry of making up the list of freight shipped per steamer Ajax, the freight clerk accidentally omitted the item of apples. After inquiry yesterday, among the shippers, we are able to state [illegible] boxes as the approximate shipment.

INDIAN CAPTURED.—Upon the order of the Indian Agent at [illegible], the police of this city yesterday arrested a squaw called Jenny, on the charge of stealing while at that Agency. She will be detained to await further instructions from the Agent.

DETENTION OF THE SENATOR.—The steamer Senator did not arrive yesterday till about half past two P. M., in consequence of a dense fog which prevailed at Oregon City all the morning. She was loaded to the guards, and Capt. Kellogg will take no desperate chances. She left on return this afternoon, as usual.

STEAMBOATS [illegible].—The following telegram was received from [illegible] to-day: "No news from south since Wednesday. [illegible] three feet higher than at any previous time this winter. Streams [illegible] heard from."

FOR VANCOUVER.—In response to a dispatch received from Vancouver yesterday by Capt. Turnbull, the Fannie Troup will leave this morning for that place, and will probably make regular trips hereafter.

THE NEXT STEAMER.—Mr. Weidler informs us that the steamship Continental sailed from San Francisco, on Saturday for this port. She will be due here, Wednesday evening.

GRANT CLUB AT EAST PORTLAND.—We learn that the Union men of East Portland had a very large and enthusiastic meeting last evening, and that a Union Grant Club was organized. The house was filled to overflowing. We could not obtain the particulars of the organization, but will get them to-day.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.—Mr. Nat. Gottgetreu, late with J. Schoenfeld & Co., has opened a nice little cigar and tobacco store at the corner of First and Stark streets, opposite the [illegible] Saloon. Nat. is a first rate fellow and we know that he keeps as good cigars and tobacco as can be found in the city. Give him a call.

DANCING SCHOOL.—Mr. Frank McCann, as advertised, will open his Dancing School this evening in the room used by the Fenian Guard as their armory. Regular evenings for dancing, Tuesdays and Fridays, and a cotillion party each Saturday evening.

RECEIVED BY THE STEAMER AJAX.—A large assortment of those knobby business suits, which we are selling at fabulously low prices. W. Craster & Co., 103 Front street.

GENERAL SHERMAN ON KENTUCKY REBELS.—If General Sherman had not already spoilt all his chances of being elected for office by the Democratic party, he would have finished them by his letters to General Burnside recently published. The latter officer had command in Kentucky during the war, and his administration has drawn down upon him the merciless abuse and persecution of the Kentucky people whose sympathies were with the rebels. General Burnside claims that whatever he did was performed wholly within the express orders of his superior officer, General Sherman. A copy of those orders is now made public, and they are certainly couched in General Sherman's most trenchant style. He instructs General Burnside that under the military rule, "everybody can be made to 'stay at home and mind his or her own business,' and if they won't do that, can be sent away where they won't keep their honest neighbors in fear of danger, robbery and insult." Accordingly he adds:

"Your Military Commanders, Provost Marshals, and other agents, may arrest all males and females who have encouraged or harbored guerrillas and robbers, and you may cause them to be collected in Louisville, and when you have enough, say three or four hundred, I will cause them to be sent down the Mississippi, through the guerilla gauntlet, and by a sailing ship send them to a land where they may take their niggers and make a colony, with laws and a future of their own. If they won't live in peace in such a garden as Kentucky, why, then we will kindly send them to another, if not a better land, and surely this would be a kindness and God's blessing to Kentucky."

"They Cure!" What Cures? AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL for a Cough, AYER'S PILLS for a purgative, and AYER'S SARSAPARILLA for the complaints that require an alterative medicine.

DR. C. W. COOL,

DENTIST.

THOSE WHO DESIRE FIRST CLASS DENTAL SERVICES might do well to give him a call. He is making a NEW AND IMPROVED VULCANITE PLATE. The nature of his improvement consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold; it makes the plate twice as strong and one-third times thinner than the common vulcanite plate. It also prevents the acids of the mouth from roughing the plate, and from turning it black, which is a common occurrence. One half of the common vulcanite plates turn black after being in use a short time, particularly where tobacco is used for smoking. His new style of plate admits of a very fine finish on the concave or palate surface. His office is the only place where such work can be had. The improvement is his own invention, for which he has received, December 31, 1867, a patent from the United States Patent Office. He has been making this style of work for the last two and a half years, and has specimens of the work which can be seen at his office. This work has given satisfaction in every case.

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER.

THE UNIVERSAL REMEDY FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL COMPLAINTS!

At this period there are but few of the human race unacquainted with the merits of the Pain Killer, but while some extol it as a liniment, they know but little of its power in easing pain when taken internally, while others use it internally with great success, but are equally ignorant of its healing virtues when applied externally. We therefore wish to say to all that it is equally successful whether used internally or externally, and it stands alone, unrivalled by all the great catalogue of Family Medicines, and its sale is universal and immense. The demand for it from India and other foreign countries is equal to the demand at home and it has become known in these far off places by its merits.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!

A Pure and Powerful Tonic,

Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.

Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers; Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water; Invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels,
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.

REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element, no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

John Morrissey

A Washington correspondent writes:

In happy contradistinction to the arch wickedness of Wood is that fearless and generous [illegible] Democrat who sits behind him — the Hon John Morrissey. The Honorable John has won golden opinions since his accession to the House from the [illegible] and unobtrusiveness of his deportment and the urbanity of his disposition. He is said to be one of the most [illegible] in his intercourse with his fellow [illegible] is not at all proud and will associate with Ashley on terms of equality though his private opinion of the Toledo member is not good. He said on a recent occasion in a confident way that he didn't see how a man with Ashley's record of early life could have the impudence to sit in Congress and there are few who will question the wisdom of that remark or doubt its pertinence. One of the best intellectual and moral treats a man can enjoy in Washington is to get the Hon Mr Morrissey to turn on the stop-cock of unrestrained converse and tell the secrets of his inmost heart. He will do it on very slight provocation and keep you charmed by his interesting discourse for hours at a time. He delights to tell of his feats of prowess in the ring, especially his memorable match with Heenan. I heard him tell that thrilling story once and shall never forget how he shouldered his fists and showed how fights were won. "Golly I wish I did tremble when I was coming to the scratch that time. Heenan was too big for me, and that morning I'd have given a good deal to get out of the scrape. Still, I made up my mind that as I had put up all my money — every d—d cent I had [I think he said $1,700] into the thing I was going in, and then, thought I, I'll be dammed if I don't whip him too. When I looked at Heenan stripped for the fight, I thought I'd be whipped sure—then again I made up my mind to make him work for it. I eyed him all over as he sat in his corner. 'Good God' says I to myself, I can't do nothing with that fellow, but then, again I thought I must. Well, we came up to the first round. When I remember how he did plug me! I tell you what it is, gentlemen, I don't want to brag of my own pluck, for it would be no use now that I am out of the ring, but if I hadn't been pretty good game, I'd have caved upon that first round. After a long tussel we fell, and I was mightily glad of it. It was while we were down this time that I made up my mind I was going to whip him. Heenan tried to choke me, while we were on the ground. He got his hand on my throat this way, (suiting the action to the word). When I felt him do that, thinks I to myself, I've got you now. I thought that a man who'd do that was a coward, and from that time to the end of the fight I felt sure of whipping him and I would have whipped him, just as I did, if the fight had lasted just twice as long as it did. If Heenan had pluck equal to his strength, all hell couldn't whip him, but he hain't, and it's no work at all to whip him if you can only stand up under him for the first few minutes."

You wouldn't think to hear the Hon John in his reminiscences of the ring, that he considered his present position in the light of promotion or advancement. On the contrary, he thinks the noblest work of God is a first-class boxer, and doubtless deems it in the light of a dishonor to the ring that one of its brightest ornaments and [illegible] champions should have degenerated into a Congressman. Nothing but a desire to save his beloved country from the hands of the Radical conspirators ever induced him to make the sacrifice.

In personal appearance the Honorable John is, if not entirely prepossessing, certainly not the entirely the reverse. He wears a very fine crop of black or very dark brown hair, which was quite long until he found that Theodore Tilton and a few other Radicals were copying after him in this matter, when he indignantly curtailed its fair proportions. He has a fine black beard, and a pair of very friendly looking eyes. His nose is the only feature about him which betrays his former occupation. In one of his battles in the ring this member was for the most part demolished, and a reconstructed little pug stands upon the ruin of the grand old Roman with which his features were once adorned. His dress is not remarkable, either with showiness or shabbiness, and the only ornament about him is what at a distance, on a dark night, might be mistaken for a locomotive head light, but on near approach proves to be a big diamond pin. In a word, modest, retiring, gentle and humane, Mr Morrissey, if not an honor to Congress is at least an honor to the prize ring, and when the pugilists come to make out a list of their saints, high upon the scroll will stand Saint John.

Mr. Seward's Operations in the Gulf

[From Wilkes's Spirit of the Times]

It appears by the Congressional reports, that Mr. Seward was before the Foreign Committees of both Houses on Tuesday last, in reference to his real estate transactions, and occupied some two hours with each body. The belief in Washington is, that the House will vote the money for the Russian purchase, but it is reported that the Senate, which largely endorsed that icy acquisition, will cast but few votes for the purchase of St. Thomas and St. John. Such adverse action, however, will be new to the policy of our Government. No territory that was ever offered us for money, has ever been refused, and no national policy has ever been more justified by public approbation, than that comprised in the purchases of Florida, Louisiana, and California. The purchase of Alaska will be equally popular with the people, and so would the purchase of Lower California, in order to complete our boundary defences on the Western Coast. The popular sentiment on the subject of perfecting the position of the United States on the main land, is generally admitted by the leading members of both houses of Congress, but they do not find the same warrant for the acquisition of outlying islands, which they say involves to a large extent a new principle. Mr Seward, on the other hand, says the proposed West India purchase, is justified on precisely the same principle as the purchase of Louisiana and Alaska, and will in like manner be approved of by the people. It is also his opinion, that if he can "get in" upon the West India string, by this St Thomas purchase, other European Governments, conceding to our prestige, and regarding the matter as a warning, will turn their precarious Gulf property over to our hands, at just such rates as we may choose to name. Moreover, it is doubtless Mr Seward's concealed opinion, that the act of the United States in thus advancing into the Gulf of Mexico, and taking up a position domineering Cuba, will soon stimulate the suppressed aspirations of that Island, that in less than five years it would come to us of itself, without costing us a cent.

Of course, Mr. Seward could not express such a hope as this in his official character, but he doubtless believes in it, and we will take this opportunity to say (though not often agreeing with Mr Seward) that we believe in it, too. We therefore, would make no hesitation in the purchase of St Thomas. The seven or eight millions that are asked for it and St. John, merely amount to two or three days' internal revenue and the prestige the purchase would give the United States in the minds of the European powers would, of itself, be worth more than twice the money.

In view, however, of the local impression which the movement would make upon the discontented mind of Cuba, we should regard the rejection of these islands, at the figures asked, as a very great mistake. Cuba will never be offered us by Spain, at any price, so long as she can hold it, but we have no doubt that Spain will be glad to put Cuba in the market very soon after the United States shall have ranged itself alongside.

We regard the purchase of the Danish Islands therefore, as the incipient step to the acquisition of Cuba at a cheap rate—and perhaps, for nothing.

A paper published at the French Island of Martinique, West Indies having received two warnings, announced to its subscribers that it would henceforward give up controversial politics, and instead of leading articles, would print elegant extracts from the French poets. Its next number contained La Fontaine's fable of the "Wolf and the Lamb," whereupon the Governor of Martinique, accepting the fable as a personal insult to himself, suspended the unlucky journal for a month.

The Massachusetts Agricultural College has all the students it can accommodate, and the trustees are going to ask the Legislature for $50,000 with which to erect new buildings.

A young man who was about jumping from a train while in motion was deterred by a porter, who asked for his name, age, business and residence for an obituary notice.

UNION COUNTY CONVENTION.

A Union County Convention for Multnomah county will be held at the Court House in the City of Portland on Saturday the 7th day of March A. D. 1868 for the purpose of electing twelve delegates to the Union State Convention to be held at Salem on the 24th day of March 1868.

All voters in the several Precincts in said County who during the late rebellion were in sympathy with the Government and in favor of the war for the maintenance of the Nationality, and who are willing to aid the Union party by their support, are requested to meet at their respective places of voting on the 29th day of February 1868 to select delegates to attend said County Convention based upon the Union vote for Governor at the June election A. D. 1866 at the rate of one delegate for every twenty votes and one for each fraction over one-half. The Precincts are entitled to delegates as follows:

South Portland	13
Central Portland	1
North Portland	11
East Portland	4
Multnomah	-
Fulton	-
Sauvie	2
St Johns	2
Powell's Valley	1
Willamette	1
Sauvie's Island	1

The polls will be opened at the respective precincts at the hour of 1 o'clock, P. M., and remain open until 5 o'clock, P. M.

J. J. HOFFMAN,
Chairman County Committee.

TO THE NINE PRECINCTS OF YAMHILL COUNTY.

To insure prompt and efficient action in the ensuing canvass, the Union County Committee of Yamhill county deem it expedient and would respectfully suggest that each of the following named persons act as chairmen pro tempore of their respective Precinct meetings to be held February 29th, 1868:

1. Dr H. V. V. Johnson, McMinnville Precinct.
2. Hon. Jere Lamson, South Fork.
3. Hon. A. R. Burbank, Lafayette.
4. Hon R. R. Laughlin, North Fork.
5. Gen. Joel Palmer, Dayton.
6. Hon W. W. Brown, Amity.
7. Judge H. Hewett, Willamette.
8. Judge S. Brutscher, East Chehalem.
9. N. Westfall, Esq., West Chehalem.

It is earnestly advised that a permanent organization of the Union party be perfected at that meeting (if not before) by selecting a Precinct Committee of three to co-operate with the County Committee and with a like committee in each precinct.

It is also hoped that such action will be taken by said meetings and by said committees as will insure the unity at the ensuing elections to the cause upheld by our country's brave and patriotic defenders and their friends.

Let us labor for a united, harmonious, determined and successful campaign.

Lafayette, Feb. 4th, 1868.

POLK COUNTY UNION CONVENTION.

The Union voters of the several precincts of Polk county, are requested to meet on the 29th day of February, A. D. 1868, to elect delegates to attend a County Convention to be held at Dallas on the 7th day of March ensuing for the purpose of selecting six delegates to represent said county in the Union State Convention to be held at the city of Salem on the 24th day of March, 1868, and to transact such other business as the Convention in their wisdom shall see proper. The precincts will be entitled to delegates as follows, viz:

Bridgeport	4	Jackson	4
Lucklamute	4	Salt Lake	3
Buena Vista	6	Bethel	6
Monmouth	6	Eola	5
Douglas	4	Dallas	9

The Committee have thought it better for the purposes of this Convention not to apportion delegates from the new precinct of Lacreole for the reason that no vote has ever been cast there, and its establishment has also affected three other precincts, making it impossible to fix the representation of the four precincts upon a satisfactory basis. The Committee therefore recommend that the voters of said precinct of Lacreole attend and be allowed to take part in those precincts to which they would have belonged had no new precinct been established. By order County Union Central Committee.

W. C. WHITSON, Chairman.

WASHINGTON COUNTY UNION CONVENTION.

By order of the Union Committee of Washington Co., Oregon, the Union Convention will be held at Hillsboro on Saturday, the 21st of March, 1868, for the purpose of electing six delegates to the Union State Convention which meets at Salem March 24th, 1868.

The Union voters of Washington county are requested to meet at the usual places of voting in their several precincts on Saturday the 14th of March 1868, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the County Convention.

The following is the number of delegates to which each precinct is entitled under the apportionment of the Union County Committee:

Dairy Creek	6	South Tualatin	4

H. W. SHIPLEY'S
PACIFIC
TURBINE WATER WHEEL!

THIS NEW WHEEL, OF WHICH THE ABOVE cut is an illustration, has

FOUR SETS OF BUCKETS,
USES THREE-FOURTHS OF THE WATER TWICE,
Giving at least Twenty per cent more Power than any other Wheel ever invented;

Figure 1 is an axial section of case with wheel inclosed and illustrates the arrangements for applying the water through a series of openings in the periphery of the case direct upon the wheel by fixed guides. Pivoted gates extend inward toward the opening, which are between their inner ends, and when open, fit closely against the guides, thus offering no obstruction to the inward flow of water. The gates are opened and closed by a hand and ratchet wheel, upon which operates a rack segment on a ring which extends entirely around the top of the case, partially revolving the ring from different points. The revolving of the ring opens or closes the gates by means of connecting rods.

Figure 2, a perspective view, shows the three sets of periphery and the radial set of buckets. The peculiar construction is such that it uses three fourths of the water twice—something never before achieved in any water wheel. The buckets are very shallow and confine the water to the outer diameter of the wheel. After the water exerts all the power that can be obtained on three sets of well arranged periphery buckets, it passes to and is again used upon the radial set, giving an additional power and producing an increased velocity and steadiness of motion truly wonderful.

Aware that the new principles of this invention may not be readily comprehended, the inventor has only to say that seeing the wheel work is the most certain way of removing skepticism. He will warrant every wheel to perform all that he claims for it. By its use more of the now abandoned water powers may be again made the means of adding to the employment and wealth of the country.

Manufacture of the Wheel.

The Inventor has made arrangements with the WILLAMETTE IRON WORKS, Portland, for the manufacture of these Wheels.

All orders addressed to either
WILLAMETTE IRON WORKS,
Or H. W. SHIPLEY,
Will receive prompt attention.

Send for Illustrated Descriptive Circulars, and Price Lists.

MR. H. W. SHIPLEY, Sir: In reply to your inquiry as to how I like your Pacific Turbine Wheel, I have to say that I have used one over eight and three Leffel wheels, 10, 13 and 15 inch diameters. When I had a 13 inch Leffel wheel, though nothing ished it worked the machinery like a top, using 52 ft. water per minute more than the 13 inch Leffel. At my request I subsequently took your wheel out that it might be finished, and then I put in a 15 inch Leffel, but it gave no better power than yours while it used 2 cubic feet more water per minute. After some [illegible] placed your wheel and am still using it with the most satisfactory results. I have subjected it to some severe tests. For instance, while running the circular saw in a log which squared 15 inches, I added the planer with a 9 inch knife, cutting from one eighth to one fourth of an inch depth, with not in the least slacking the speed. [illegible] gates open one eighth [illegible] gives as much power as the Leffel with gate one third open. [illegible]

DR. J. C. YOUNG,
Medical and Surgical
INSTITUTE.

 CONSULTATION IN ALL CASES, FREE.
 CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED.
 IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in trouble to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS,

That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.

READ! READ!

I am aware that by dwelling upon so uninviting a subject as the decay of man's vigor through the loss of the vital principle of life the ignorant may aspersé my motive, but the desire to point out to those who languish and decay the true cause of their affliction is too great an incentive to be forced into abeyance. How general the terrible disease of Seminal Weakness is, no one but the practical specialist who devotes his time to its treatment can tell, but its presence can be detected by the most inexperienced by noting the following symptoms: Weakness of the back and limbs, [illegible] feelings, loss of muscular power, nervousness, cold feet or hands, accompanied by hot head, [illegible] of consumption, short breath, flushings of the face, aversion to society, confusion of the mind, loss of memory, nightly emissions, colorless, slight discharges upon the least excitement, trembling, palpitation of the heart, irregular appetite, variable temper, etc.

YOUNG MAN, if you experience any of the above symptoms enumerated above, pause to consider. The present is the golden moment in which you may regain health and happiness. You may feel strong now, but if you have ever practiced the vice of self-abuse even in the slightest degree, you have the seeds of weakness in your system, and their undermining influence will, sooner or later, dash the fair edifice of your strength to the ground, leaving you a helpless, abject being. It is not a disease that declares itself at once. Therein lies its greatest danger. For while the patient is being treated for affection of the Heart, Lungs, Brain, or Digestive organs, he sinks into a general debility that soon [illegible] is the last of the victims of the terrible disorder, [illegible] Weakness.

See in the bent form and languishing steps, the poor victim of the fascinating vice. Mark the course of the destructive complaint in the hollow cheek and dull eye.

Drowsiness is one of the premonitory symptoms. At first it is easily shaken off, but it grows eventually to a great disinclination to pursue his regular business. The mind becomes apprehensive, and restless nights and days of depression.

It is the nature of the complaint to assume many changes that leave the poor victim but little hope of recovery. In a single instant it may wither your fond hopes and blast your honest aspirations.

Marriage is sought by a natural impulse as a hope of relief. This is an error of the first magnitude, for it is often unprepared for the exigencies of the occasion, and he finds himself in a deplorable [illegible] from which there is but the slightest hope of [illegible]. Or if the marriage should result in offspring, they are puny, distorted, decrepit and degenerate. This is [illegible] both sexes, whether married or single, and to all times of life.

Do not delay if you feel any of the symptoms of this terrible complaint, or if your acts have been such as to lead to them, but by instant application secure to yourself the only hope of health and happiness. The Doctor uses no mercury or other deleterious drugs—cures, when taken in time, always guaranteed, and full and proper vigor restored.

The afflicted are assured of every confidence.

PERSONS AFFLICTED WITH VENEREAL.

During the seventeen years since the establishment of the Institute, the number of cases of Venereal that have been treated show a record unsurpassed by any in the world, and the success that has invariably attended the course of treatment.

Without Mercury or other Deleterious Drugs,

Shows conclusively the use of them to be not only uncalled for, but actually dangerous, for it is a well established medical principle that these poisonous drugs, by entering the blood, ruin the constitution and [illegible] life.

The Doctor effects a cure in recent cases in a few days, and finds no difficulty in curing those of long duration without submitting the patient to such treatment as will draw upon him the slightest suspicion, or oblige him to neglect his business, whether in-doors or without. The diet need not be changed. Cures always guaranteed, or no pay required.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease, and requires medical or surgical assistance, the inquiry [illegible] be: Where is there a physician competent to afford relief, and whose respectable standing in society will recommend him to the confidence of the community? The Doctor, understanding how imperatively necessary these requirements are, feels called upon to interpose, and by calling the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial manner, but in a thorough manner, after years of study and practice in hospitals and private families—can make them feel from the hands of the qualified one[illegible] or [illegible]. Therefore families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who can sympathize with and befriend them in trouble, in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be placed. Consultation by letter or otherwise free. Cures guaranteed in all weakness and trouble incidental to the sex. Private apartments are provided when desired, where will be had all the advantages of unremitted attention of the Doctor and the most skillful and faithful nurse.

To CORRESPONDENTS.—Persons, either male or female, residing in the interior are often deterred from visiting the Doctor because they cannot spare the time, nor incur the expense of a visit to the city. To such he would say that a plain statement of the symptoms and information bearing upon the complaint will enable him to prescribe for them so that they can be cured at home. None need have any false delicacy about writing, no matter what the nature of the complaint, as the communication will be seen by no one except the Doctor and will be treated with the [illegible] [illegible]. Letters can be [illegible] either burned or destroyed.

Consultation Free.
